GERMAN COMEDY.

A Novelty That Appealed to Ogden Amusement Lovers.

night in the Fifth ward institute, when a German comedy was put on and a number of other features of entertainment suggestive of the German fatherland were rendered. The whole was under the direction of Professor Henry Richards, late from Berlin, and included German musical selections by Misses Minnie Schansambach, Blanche Wenner, Hendershot and Wehrend. There was also an address by L. Beuschel in German, and dealing with the parallel growth and development of Germany and the United States.

Professor George Eaton also delivered a German address.

The musical honors were carried off by little Blanche Wenner. The composity was "Er Miss Tannen" ("He Must Dance"). The situations were clear and laughable, and could be easily underatood, even by those who had no knowledge of the German language. Those taking part were: Professor Eaton, Professor Richards and Professor Wilson, together with Miss Riesel and Miss Rannister. night in the Fifth ward institute, when
